CITY COUNCIL SUSTAINS THE SLOT MACHINES.

The First Branch Resolution to Enforce the City's Anti-Gambling Ordinance

KEPT ON THE TABLE 15 TO 12

In the Second Branch-A Delegation of Ministers Were Interested Witnesses.

AN ANTI-BRITISH RESOLUTION

Introduced By Councilman Scalley Tabled in the First Branch Without Discussion.

REFUND ORDINANCE PASSED

Unanimously in Both Branches, and the Election Will Occur on Saturday, February 24.

A special meeting of the city coun-cil, held last night for the transaction of general business, was the occasion of attracting an all but full attendance in the second branch, the only absentee being Mr. Gaus, of the Sixth ward. The unusual interest manifested by council men was due to the knowledge that representatives of the church federation would be on hand, and that an other effort would be made to take from the table the Waterhouse resolution, tabled some time ago by the branch, and which calls on the city officials to enforce the anti-gambling or-dinance, especially with reference to the slot machine. This matter was brought up toward the close of the ses sion at the instance of Councilmen KR-leen and Megrail, and the branch voted to keep the resolution on the table on a very close vote, 15 to 12. The antislot machine campaigners claim this only means temporary defeat, and that other efforts can be made to bring the resolution from its resting place and pass it. The councilmen who voted the other way, on the other hand, claim that the Kindelberger resolution to re-consider the vote by which the resolution was kept on the table places the Waterhouse resolution where it canno be touched again. After the session of council one of the ministers said: "Every saloonkeeper who is a member of council was present; they will have to come this way in the future to preven action by council along the line desire, for we will keep up the fight. In the first branch a feature of the proceedings was the introduction by Mr

Scalley of a resolution of sympathy with the Boers in South Africa. The resolution was defeated on a decisive vote, councilmen holding the opinion that it is not a matter that concerns the city of Wheeling or its council.

The refund ordinance, with the proinformed recently, was passed unani-mously in both branches of council There is no effort in connection with this refund to inject politics, and as the provisions of the measure are so abviously to the advantage of the city it is thought that it will secure a good round majority at the special election which is to be held on the last Satur day in February, the 24th.

Clerk's Report.

The committee on accounts submitted to council the city clerk's annual report, with the recommendation that it be printed in the Intelligencer, Register, News and Staats-Zeltung and that 400 copies he printed in pamphlet form. Council acted favorably on the recom-

Refund Ordinance.

The refund ordinance came up in the second branch on its second reading for amendment and debate. Mr. Maxwell offered amendments to the ordi nance, which were acted upon favor They were in effect that instead of the whole amount realised being turned over to the city receiver only $94,800 be turned over to that official, the loan commissioners to retain the balance. This was done because the city receiver's bond is not sufficient to cover sums of such magnitude. The amount to be turned over to the receiver is the portion of the refund purposed to be used for the acquirement of the plant and franchise of the Wheeling Electrical Company. Another amendment provides that the city receiver shall, until the year 1910, give a further bond, not to exceed $100,000, to cover the sinking fund he will be custodian of during that period.

The section fixing the time of the special election, at which the people will vote on the refund ordinances, was filled by designating Saturday, Februnry 24, 1900.

The ordinance then went to a vote in the second branch and was passed without opposition, the vote being 2 to 0. In the first branch, too, the ordinance passed unanimously, with no fur rick Scalley, of the First ward, intro duced ah anti-British resolution, expressing sympathy for the Boer repub There was no discussion, and on motion by Councilman List, also of the First ward, seconded by Councilman McCormick, the resolutions were tabled.

They were as follows:

Whereas, A state of war exists between the kingdom of Great Britain and the Boen Republic and Orange Free State, in South Republic and Orange Free State. In South Africa, and Whereas, The success of the British arms means the overthrow and destruction of the Dutch Republics, thus striking a deadly blow at free government, and arresting the progress and growth of Regulbican Institutions; therefore, be it Resolved, That the council of the city of Wheeling, and the American people in general, extend their sympathy to the Boer Republics in their present struggle, and we declare it to be the duty of the people of the United States, through their representatives in Congress, to call on the President to mediate and bring about a cessation of hestillies honorable alike to both sides; and at the same time to preserve absolute freedom of the people of the Boer Republic and Orange Free State.

Eight Additional Policeman.

The police committee reported a reso-lution for the addition of eight men to the police force. The resolution states the lengthy hours of the present force all hours of the day and night. The resolution provides for the appointment of eight additional patrolmen and instructs the finance committee to provide the necessary funds in its annual appropriation ordinance. President Maxwell feared the resolution as it stood was irregular. On motion by Mr. Megrall the resolution was referred to the finance committee for favorable report at the next meeting of council.

To Hurry Appropriations.
A communication was received from the board of public works stating that owing to council failing to pass the annual appropriation ordinance early the year work of the department had been delayed far into the winter sea son, and requesting that at least the ten cent levy fund be placed at the disposal of the board earlier, not later than the last of March.

President Maxwell remarked that the city ordinances provide that the annual appropriation ordinance cannot b acted upon before the fourth Tuesday of March. President Maxwell took occasion to request chairmen of council committees to begin consideration of the annual estimates at once, so, if possible, to have the appropriation ordinance ready for adoption at the first meeting

The Slot Machines.

The slot machine question then came up in the second branch in the form of motion by Mr. Killeen, of the Sixth ward, that the Waterhouse resolution, tabled several weeks ago, be taken from by Dr. Megrail. The resolution was as by Dr. megtam. The chief of police and his deputities be and they are hereby required to enforce section 4s of the city ordinances on offenses as long as said or dinances comains the law of this city unrepealed, and further that he shall not wait until inclivational citizens make affidavits before preferrorming this duty for which he council it is his duty to enforce the of this council it is his duty to enforce the continuances of the city, as no power of an endinances to the city, as no power of an endinances are the city, as no power of an endinance, suspension or veto of the ordinances enacted by this council is inmented by the law in him.

Hesolved. That the chief of police be required to report at the next meeting of council whither the slot machines, the owners or lessees of which were 'pulled' and fined in December last, are still in operation.

Mr. Healy objected, because Mr. Kil-

Mr. Healy objected, because Mr. Killeen had voted against tabling on the occasion of the other vote. The objection was overruled by the chair. An aye and nay vote was called for and resulted as follows:

Aye-Beckett, Bloomfield, Bradbury Fair, Fox, Killeen, Long, Megrail, Miller, McMechen, Watson, Maxwell; to-

Nay-Chew, Caldwell, Fitzsimmons Healy, Kalbitzer, Kindelberger, Kurtz, Marschner, Maurer, Ratcliffe, Ritter, Scheehle, Weisgerber, Zeigler; total, 15 "The resolution remains on the ta-ble," announced President Maxwell.

Then there was a bit of jockeying for position, Mr. Kindelberger moving re consideration of the vote. The chair at first was disposed to decline to entertain the motion, but finally did so. The motion was seconded by Mr. Healy, and the vote was as follows:

Aye—Beckett, Bloomfield, Bradbury

Caldwell, Fair, Fox, Killeen, Long, Me grail, Miller, McMechen; total, 11

Nay-Chew, Pitzsimmons, Healy, Kalbitzer, Kindelberger, Korn, Kurtz, Marschner, Maurer, Ratcliffe, Ritter Scheehle, Watson, Weisgerber, Zeigler Maxwell; total, 16.

The slot machinists enter the claim the failure of the motion to reconsider the former vote kills the Waterhouse resolution and that it cannot now taken from the table. At 9:45 p. m. the second branch adjourned. The first branch followed suit

"COMPANY A".

Mustering in of the Wheeling Company of National Guard

WILL BE COMPLETED TO-DAY

Interesting Campaign Being Waged for the Second Lieutenancy by the Four Candidates-Prospects for the Crack Company of the State-To be Uniformed for Dewey Day Parade.

The work of mustering in the Wheeling company of the West Virginia National Guard was not completed last night, but the final details will be attended to to-day and the prospects are good for the appearance of the boys in blue in the "Dewey Day" parade. The orders for the uniforms will be submitand the inability of the department to ted to-morrow and as it is imperative cover the city with police protection at to have the company roll filled out previously, all young men desiring to join are requested to call at the law office of C. E. Morris, 1503 Chapline street, today. There are but few vavancles. The company will be known as Company A.

Thirty young men were mustered in last night by Lieutenant George E. Gramm, of Grafton, quartermaster of the First regiment, West Virginia Na-tional Guard. The company is limited to forty-five members and the muster would have doubtless been complete last night had all the applicants been able to attend the meeting, but it is certain that this matter will be dispos ed of to-day. The meeting was held in an ante-room of the Chamber of Commerce's quarters, in the Hub building, the main room being used at the time by the Builders' Exchange.

Assisting in the mustering-in were Captain John P. Glass and First Lieutenant C. E. Morris, and during the evening Colonel C. L. Smith, of Fairmont of the First regiment, was a call er. Capt. A. A. Franzheim, who com-manded Company G, of the Fourth "Immunes," was an interested spectator. Clerical work in such affairs consumes considerable time and it was 11 o'clock before it ended. But the proceedings were not dry by any means. The second lieutenant is to be elected by the company and the quartette of candidates for this office were very much evidence. Button-hol-ing that would have done credit to a veteran lobbyist, was an enlivening feature. The race, which is to be decided to-morrow evening, is a hot one, and there will be "legging" with a venthere will be "legging" with a ven-geance until the "polls" close. There were several candidates out at first, but the number has narrowed down to the

F. Dobbs, late of the West Virginia University cadet corps.

It will be impossible to pick the win-ner until the full company of forty-five men is enrolled, but the friends of "Charley" Dobbins expressed them-selves as confident of the success of their man, while Messrs. Steenrod, Crawford and Dobbs consider their chances excellent. The company promises to become the finest in the First regiment, from every point of view.

SOCIETY.

On the evening of January 30, the annual examination hop took place at Mount de Chantal Academy. After a delicions supper served in the refectory the young ladies repaired to the music hall, where dancing promptly com-menced. The music was furnished by the Opera House orchestra. The signal for dismissal was given all too soon. The young ladies reluctantly left the hall, each one carrying with her pleas-ant memories of a most enjoyable even-

COLD WEATHER

Has Prozen the Roads, and Oil Op-Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 30.— The extreme cold weather of the past few days has frozen the roads to such an extent that it is now possible for the teams to take light loads out into the field, and, as a result, nearly all the operators and producers are rushing material out. There is a large smount of contemplated work and work that has been partially started, shut down on account of the inability of the oper-ators to get the necessary material into the field to continue operations. Should this weather continue for a week or ten days there will be a large amount of new work started in all parts of the southwest, and especially will this be true of the territory in this section. The inactivity in oil circles in this section for the past month or six weeks has been wholly on account of the condi-tion of the roads, and with this eliminated there will be a general resumption at once.

At Cow House Run, about three miles below the city, a young girl was seriously and perhaps fatally burned by an explosion of gas. The report received was a very meagre one, and the name of the person burned was not even given. A physician from this city was called and started for that place immediately. Yesterday afternoon the small son of

Mr. and Mrs. Kidder, of Catherine street, aged about two years, accident-ally got hold of a small bottle of oil of cedar, and before anyone noticed it had drank the contents of the bottle. There ere grave doubts of the recovery of the little one last evening, but to-day it is getting along nicely and will soon be all right again.

The principal acts are "Suicide Hall," the notorious resort where so many young women have shuffled off their mortal colls; a thrilling rescue by a ladder stretched across a street; an optum den and a nest of snakes. A number of specialties of a Bowery character are introduced and serve to give a local life-like color to the play. The story deals with a young woman who runs away from her wealthy parents, is betrayed and deserted in the metropolis and who finally lands in "Suicide Hall." The Players.

"Shore Acres" Coming.

"Shore Acres" Coming.

It has been clearly demonstrated by James A. Herne that a play almost plotiess, and depending entirely upon a portrayal of that which is real without dramatic effects, as in the ordinary plays, can be written with success. "Shore Acres" is a dramatic sermon without a word of religion in it. The story is that of the lowly, the eyeryday life of poor farmers and fishermen living on the coast of Maine. It is a psychic study for the thinker, a lesson for the thoughtless, and the impression made upon the spectator by this masterpiece will last a lifetime. "Shore Acres" is in every way a truly great. terpiece will last a lifetime. "Shore Acres" is in every way a truly great play, and its success is justly deserved. A complete scenic production of this ideal work will be given at the Opera House next Tuesday, February 8, and the engagement also includes the novel feature of a special matinee.

The Pittsburgh Orchestra.

The Pittsburgh Orchestra.

At this week's concerts, the thirteenth in the season's series, will be heard as soloist Miss Leonora Jackson, violinist, a young lady scarce twentyone years of age, who has won the admiration and esteem of the first critics of Europe. Miss Jackson studied five years with Dr. Joachim, of Berlin, and in many respects she is the most famous pupil of this, the leading violin teacher of the world. She has the charm and grace of a young girl and New York critics have pronounced her playing beautiful. Her first appearance in this country after her work abroad was with the New York Philharmonic Society about four weeks age, and this was followed by engagements with the Boston Symphony and with Mr. Thomas, in Chicago. Miss Jackson is one of the most interesting soloists we shall hear at the orchestra concerts this season. At these concerts she will play one of the lovellest of the classic violin concertos, namely, the G minor of Max Bruch, and in the second part of the programme she will play with orchestra the canzonetta of Tschalkowsky, and Ernst's Hungarian airs.

Mr. Herbert Introduces his new suite in the orchestral programme this week. This suite, written for Pittsburgh, has never been heard before and a surprise is in store for those who attend the concerts this week. Other numbers are the Symphonic prologue to Shakespeare's "Othello." by Arnold Krug, Concerto for violin ond Orchestra, in Ginito Miss Jackson.
